Plane Ditched

But 40 Unhurt

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP) — A twin-engine Portuguese military plane ditched in the sea off Joao Belo, 100 miles north of here, Tuesday night. But all 40 men aboard the plane reached the beach safely, authorities said today.

Flag Day Is Observed Over Nation

SEATTLE (AP) — The man who will oversee tonight's Flag Day ceremonies at the suburban Lake City Elks Club is something of an expert in the field. He is Francis Scott Key, 40, the great-great-grandson of the man who wrote the words of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Key, a salesman, served in the Navy in the latter part of World War II but saw no battles to compare with the one in the War of 1812 that inspired his ancestor.

That Key, lawyer, scholar and district attorney, watched the shelling of Ft. Mchenry near his Baltimore home from an enemy ship. He had gone aboard the British vessel to seek release of a friend, Dr. William Beanes, prominent Baltimore physician.

Throughout the day and night of Sept. 13, 1814, the shells rained down. But "as dawn's early light" brightened into the day of Sept. 14, Key saw that the "broad stripes and bright stars" still flew "o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Of special significance to Elks on this day is that the stars on that flag that flew over Ft. Mchenry were cut out by Miss Margaret Young, who later became the mother of Henry Sanderson, the grand exalted ruler of the order of Elks in 1934.

Key's great-great grandfather was one of 11 children born to the man who wrote the words of the national anthem and the famous name has been handed down through the generations. His father also was Francis Scott as is his 15-year-old son. Key said he has never had any inclination to write, but his daughter, Carol, 11, is "interested in writing poems and the words for songs."

B52 bombers pounded suspected Red infiltration routes in Quang Tri Province twice Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Infiltration routes in Quang Tri, South Vietnam's northernmost province, have been hit seven times in three days now.

The U.S. Command reported 97 missions over North Vietnam Tuesday, with fair flying weather over most important target areas. The North Vietnamese air force was up in some force, and U.S. pilots reported sighting many MIGs but no dogfights were reported.

The raid on the Kep base was the third since Saturday and brought the total number of MIGs reported destroyed, damaged or probably destroyed to 16.

The railroad yards at Kep were also attacked and pilots said they destroyed or damaged 15 to 20 boxcars including one tank car which sent dense smoke 3,000 feet into the air.

Cites Cost of Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Tuesday the Vietnam war is costing so much senators "just don't want to vote for other outlays."

Fulbright made the comment after the Senate apparently killed a 20-year-old federal program which guaranteed foreign sales of books, magazines and manuals published in the United States.

The vote Monday was 47 against, 31 for.

The media guarantees legislation was requested by President Johnson.

West, East Germans Plan Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger disclosed today he has countered the proposal by East German Premier Willy Stoph that they meet with a suggestion that they name representatives for talks "without political conditions."

That Kiesinger replied at all was considered significant. It was the first official top-level exchange of letters between the two governments.

Kiesinger's letter was another in a series of steps by the chancellor since he took office last December to move the two parts of the country closer together.

He told Stoph that their representatives should discuss "practical matters of Germans living together."

RUSSIA PRESSING (From Page One)

ulation about Kosygin. The Soviets obtained a permit to land a special plane in New York about Thursday but postponed the flight, apparently awaiting the scheduling of the assembly session. The U.S. Embassy in Moscow said the Soviet government had not requested any visas for the flight.

Should Kosygin come to New York, many other heads of government and possibly even President Johnson were expected to attend the session.

The feeling was widespread among Arab delegations that the Russians were promoting the assembly session primarily to divert attention from their failure to help the Arabs in the war. In line with this, Saudi Arabian delegate Jamil M. Baroudy commented that for the Arabs, the result of an assembly session would be "zero."

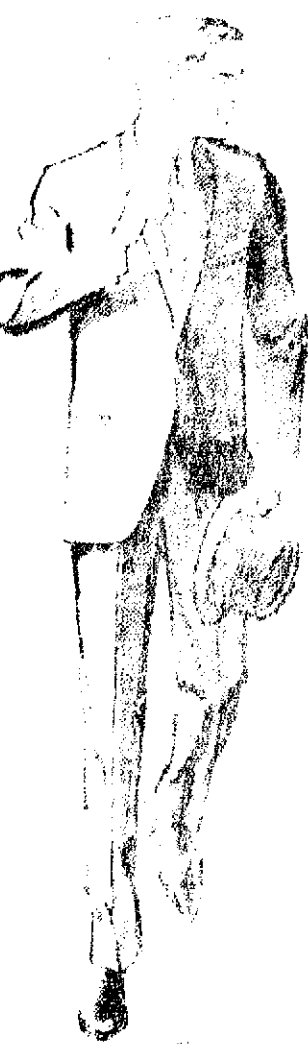

Gromyko's letter said that despite the Security Council's three cease-fire resolutions, Israel had "seized further territories" from Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

The letter called for "the convening of an emergency special session of the United Nations General Assembly within 24 hours" to demand "the immediate withdrawal of Israel forces behind the armistice lines" fixed at the end of the 1949 Arab-Israeli war. While Gromyko did not say so, his letter indicated that he was acting under the assembly's 1957 "uniting for peace" resolution, which was adopted to circumvent the Soviet veto in the council. The Soviet Union has always called it illegal.

An emergency special session can be called only under that resolution, and only when the council has failed to act for peace "because of lack of unanimity of the permanent members, the big powers."

The Soviet resolution before the Security Council "vigorously condemns" Israel's aggressive activities and continued occupation of part of Egypt, Syria and Jordan and "demands that Israel should immediately and unconditionally" withdraw her troops behind the armistice lines.

In colonial days an ordinance was in effect.

CAST STONE MAY BE BOOMERANG
Dear Helen: I have a friend who mutilates the English language, yet I say nothing. But she's always acting superior about her "knowledge."

For instance, the other day she laughed at my pronunciation of a word and two minutes later she corrected my usage of another. I went home boiling, checked the dictionary, and found, as usual, I was right on both counts.

Isn't it rude to correct a person's unless it is a child or the mispronunciation of a name is involved?

At any rate, she who casts the first critical stone should be an expert.—"A's" IN ENGLISH

Dear A: You might turn this rude gal's "Stone" into boomerang with, "I'll bet you a dollar my pronunciation is right." And collect!

Critics of your spoken word should be parents, teachers—or quiet!—H.

Dear Helen: I became involved with a married man who lived next door with his in-laws. He and his wife and baby moved to the other side of town and he broke off with me, but it was too late. I was pregnant.

In a panic, I told him and the in-laws, but they refused to believe me. They all insisted if I was pregnant, it wasn't him.

As the months went on, I hardly showed, and was able to hide my condition with the use of a girdle and loose clothes. Even at work no one guessed. I said nothing more about it to anyone. I was shopping a nearby town when the baby came, a month premature. I gave a fictitious name at the hospital, and still no one guessed. I was just "off work because of the flu."

I'd planned to give the baby up, but now I can't sign because I want him so badly. He's at a receiving home waiting my decision. But what about the man, the in-laws and my "secret."

One look and there will be trouble as he looks too much like his father to be my "nephe" or something.

I can't move just now, and it will be hard supporting him without help. The father of the baby often comes to visit his in-laws and I usually see him. The situation would be very bad as his wife would also guess.

What should I do?—TOO LATE

Dear Too: Be completely honest with yourself. Are you really keeping the baby because of great and lasting love—or so that you can embarrass a man who "did you wrong"—with your willing consent?

Or perhaps you have the submerged hope that he'll toss over his wife and child for you. If so, forget it!

If you truly love your son enough to keep him, you'll manage a new job in another town where he'll have a chance to grow up normally. Otherwise he'll be better off adopted.—H.

Dear Helen: People who complain about the Junior "stinker" on the block sometimes forget that their own angel may be a stinker to the gal down the street. Each person reacts differently to children—and the kids usually act as they're expected to. Also a child can get an undeserved "reputation" simply because one gossip dislikes him. So when I read in your column about the neighborhood monster I always wonder if he maybe isn't the hair-raisingly exuberant kid who will grow up to be president of his high school student

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Now it's Frank Sinatra, patron of the arts.

The new role was disclosed last weekend at the First Annual Frank Sinatra Musical Performance Awards Concert in Royce Hall at UCLA. The concert was presented by the College of Fine Arts and attended by 1,500, including the donor of the awards.

Sinatra's presence was denoted by a cluster of youthful autograph seekers around his aisle seat before the performance began. The singer played it cool and academic, smiling courteously as he signed the programs. He was obviously relieved when the concert began.

It was a heady mixture of classical and pop. William Costby of Torrance, Calif., second prize winner in instruments, played a couple of intricate, moody pieces on the accordion, making listeners wonder why that versatile instrument is neglected for serious music. Next came the instrumental winner, Gary Gray of Indianapolis, Ind., who delivered free-wheeling versions of "Georgy Girl" and "The Shadow of Your Smile" on the clarinet. Then he demonstrated his scholarship with a rhapsody by Debussy.

Diana Sims lilted through a Schubert composition and "Musetta's Waltz." From Beverly Hills, Calif., she won first prize for vocals. She was followed by Andrew Bellington of San Francisco, second-prize winner for creativity. He sang and played his own compositions on the piano and also conducted the New Chatsworth Band, a youthful group.

The program listed "comments by Mr. Sinatra" after the intermission.

He strode swiftly to the stage and shook the hand of Dean William Melnitz of the College of Fine Arts.

"Young people insist on believing that they can work miracles—and they can. I am here to see if I can help talented young musicians make some miracles on their own," Sinatra said.

"I believe we should try to keep all lines of creativity open. I hope we can all strive to bring a little more joy, love, wit, kindness and talent into the world. If we can do that, then perhaps some of us will stop disbelieving miracles."

He then presented checks totaling $5,000 to the winners, who will use the money for graduate studies. They expressed their gratitude with a "Sinatra Tribute," arranged by young Bellington and played with the full band.

Mays' Grand Slam Wins for Giants

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie Mays, usually a starter, surprised no one by turning out to be quite a relief hitter, but relief pitcher Phil Niekro stunned everyone by proving himself no slouch as a starter.

"I'm still pinching myself," said Niekro, whose knuckleball flustered Atlanta by Philadelphia 1-0 Tuesday night in his first start after 24 relief appearances.

Mays, who entered the game in the sixth inning, took his success as a substitute more nonchalantly, as usual, after hitting a grand slam in the 10th inning to boost San Francisco over Houston 6-2.

"Grand slams don't make any difference to me," he said. "Winning ball games does."

Elsewhere, the Cincinnati Reds and New York Mets were still pinching themselves over rookies Gary Nolan and Tom Seaver.

Nolan blanked the Mets 6-0 on six hits before Seaver halted the Reds 7-3 in a two-night doubleheader.

Another rookie, Dick Hughes, held off Pittsburgh as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pirates 7-4, and Ron Santo's home run shoved the Chicago Cubs by Los Angeles 3-2.

In the American League, Detroit outslugged Minnesota 15-10, the New York Yankees defeated Boston 5-3, Kansas City stopped Baltimore 1-0, Chicago topped Washington 6-0, and California swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 8-3 and 5-3.

Niekro, who relieved 28 times without starting in his third season with the Braves in 1966 before being sent to the minor leagues, made the most of his starting chance. The only hits off the 28-year-old pitcher were a two-out double by John Callison in the fourth inning and a leadoff single by Gene Oliver in the eighth.

He struck out five, walked three and got the run he needed to even his record at 2-2 when Hank Aaron singled in a run off Rick Wise in the sixth inning after a walk and Tito Franco's hit.

"I thought I'd get tired, but as the game went on, I found myself getting stronger and stronger," he said.

He admitted he liked this new assignment, but added "I'll pitch wherever they want me—wherever they need me most."

The Braves gave him their answer. "They said I'm starting Sunday in Houston," he said.

Mays, who was scheduled to sit out his second straight game because of fatigue and a stiff back, hoped to be back in the Giant lineup tonight, despite his success as a reserve.

He had entered the game in the sixth inning as a pinch hitter, but grounded into a double play with the bases loaded with Houston leading 2-1 on pitcher Dave Giusti's two-run homer.

He got another chance in the 10th after Jim Hart tied the game with a solo shot in the eighth.

Mays connected off Barry Latman, who came in after Giusti walked the first hitter, Willie McCovey's hit and another walk loaded the bases.

The homer was Mays' eighth of the season, 550th of his career, seventh grand slam since April 1962.

LL Play Is Resumed at City Park

Last evening Little League play resumed at City Park with three games on tap.

In the first game Young Chevrolet continued to roll by defeating the Merchants by a score of 10-3. It was the Merchants' 2nd loss in a row after winning 3 consecutive games. It was Young Chevrolet all the way, scoring 5 first two innings. Winning pitcher - Raymond Williams, making the big boys record stand at 2 wins no losses; where as Al-fred Johnson suffered his 1st defeat which evens his record at 1 win and 1 loss.

In the 2nd game it was the same old story as Hardee-Powell lost its 5th game in a row to the hard hitting 9 of Lloyd's Grocery by a lopsided score of 11-2. Lloyd's big bats boomed all over the field as doubles and homers rang out. The Lloyd's big inning was the 1st scoring 5 runs.

Third game Wire Products vs. Lucy's battled for 4 innings and then in the top of the 5th Wire Products jumped all over pitcher David Briggs scoring 5 runs to take a commanding lead and coasted to another victory while losing James Laudermilk hit two powerful home runs for losing pitcher David Briggs. J. Smith pitched a brilliant game.

There will be an intra swim meet Sunday, 3:30-June 19 at the Hope City Park Swimming Pool. Prizes awarded to the best diver and relay team. Come One-Come All and support your park program this summer.

Determined This Fight to Be Held

DALLAS (AP) — Promoters of the postponed world welterweight championship bout said today they were "going to put this fight on if we lose another $43,000."

The fight between champion Curtis Cokes of Dallas and undefeated Gypsy Joe Harris of Philadelphia was scheduled for June 27 at Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

Kenneth Hayles and Tommy Bullock said Tuesday the fight was postponed to July 24 after RKC canceled plans to televise it.

Last month the two Dallas promoters lost an estimated $40,000 in staging the Cokes-Francois Pavilla championship bout here.

Hayles said he thought he had a firm commitment with RKO but he said, "They kept putting off the actual signing of the contract."

Sentiment Goes With Ben Hogan

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — The 67th United States Open Golf Championship begins Thursday with commuting Arnold Palmer the favorite and— for the first time in a decade— Ben Hogan something more than a sentimental choice.

The possibility of a future players strike was the only disturbing note as the field of 150 of the world's best golfers— 135 pros and 15 amateurs put the finishing touches on their preparations today.

Palmer, golf's all-time leading money winner was a 6-1 choice to tame the plush, 7,022-yard Baltusrol Golf Club course that carries a demanding par 70.

The muscular millionaire was relaxed, cheerful and joking after commuting by private jet to his home in Ligonier, Pa., for the first two days of practice.

"The only thing I really need work on is my short game," he said, then grinned. "You know, the short irons and chipping. And my driving isn't too good. Any my putting needs help. Other than that I'm in good shape."

He said that the course "is so good, so fair, that any one of a number of players could win it. Maybe 30, maybe even 50."

The odds-makers, however, listed defending champion Billy Casper and two-time former champion Julius Boros the second most likely to succeed at 8-1.

Grouped at 10-1 were Jack Nicklaus, who is trying to work his way out of a slump; Gary Player, the little South African who won in 1955, and Frank Beard, a young, Louisville, Ky. pro who has won two tournaments this year and is one of the hottest players on the tour.

Hogan, the 54-year-old marvel of another golfing age who has won four U.S. Opens, is listed at 12-1 with Masters Champion Gay Brewer and colorful Doug Sanders.

"I think I can win it. I really think I can," said Hogan, who has played more—and better— this year than he has in many seasons. He has finished third in two tournaments and was among the top 10 at the Masters.

"If he wins here," said Palmer, "he's going to have to do some putting. The greens are big and fast. The tournament will be won by a man who can do some putting and who has patience."

"Sure, I want to win it. That business last year may have given me some incentive, maybe. I want to prove that I can win it."

The reference was to Palmer's collapse in last year's Open at San Francisco when Arnold led by seven strokes with nine holes to play. He blew the lead, fell into a tie and eventually lost a playoff to Casper—one of three Open playoff losses he has suffered in the last five years.

Casper, the one-time fat man who has trimmed down to 175 pounds, has been away from the tour for two weeks.

"It's just like it was last year," Casper said. "I took two weeks off then, too. Now I'm just trying to play my game into shape. I'm playing about as well as I did at this stage last year."

Boros, 47, is having one of his best years ever. He has won three tournaments this season, including last week's Buick Open. He is second to Palmer in the current money winnings with $83,790.

He said he doesn't have a chance—but he said it with a smile.

"I'm too old," said Boros—who already has disproved it once. He was the second oldest man to win it when he turned the trick in 1963.

Tigers, Twins Stretching a Point

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Making a little go a long way is nothing to be ashamed of, but the Detroit Tigers and Minnesota Twins were stretching the point Tuesday night.

"I sat right there and saw it, and I don't believe it," said Detroit Manager Mayo Sitt after the Tigers snapped a five-game losing streak by chopping and slicing their way to a 15-10 verdict over the Twins.

Fifteen runs were scored — 10 by Detroit — in an hour-long sixth inning marked by the absence of an extra-base hit.

"It was one of the worst games I've ever played in," the Tigers' Al Kaline said after what started as a pitching duel between Dennis McLain and Dean Chance turned into a Punch and Judy fiasco.

In other American League games, Kansas City nipped Baltimore 1-0, Chicago blanked Washington 6-0, New York topped Boston 5-3 and California swept a two-night doubleheader from Cleveland 8-3 and 5-3.

Chicago edged Los Angeles 3-2, Atlanta shaded Philadelphia 1-0, St. Louis downed Pittsburgh 7-4, San Francisco beat Houston 6-2 in 10 innings and Cincinnati split a two-night with New York, winning 6-0 before losing 7-3, in National League action.

The Tigers fell behind 5-1 before raking Chance and three successors for 10 runs — on eight singles — in the sixth. Detroit paraded 14 men to the plate, with the first 11 reaching base. Kaline and Willie Horton each had two hits in the inning while pinch hitter Jim Price and Don Wert drove in two runs apiece.

The Twins then batted around in their half of the sixth, scoring five runs — the last three when center fielder Mickey Stanley dropped Bob Allison's two-out fly ball with the bases loaded.

In all, there were 10 singles, five walks, one hit batsman, three errors two wild pitches and a passed ball in the full inning.

Detroit then pulled away with a three-run salvo in the seventh as Dick McAuliffe homered, Wert tripled, Kaline doubled and Horton singled.

The Tigers wound up with 19 hits, the Twins with 12. Jim "Catfish" Hunter hurled a four-hitter for his second successive shutout as the A's shaded the Orioles and hard-luck left-hander Steve Barber.

Two walks and Bert Campaneris' double in the second inning produced the game's only run. Hunter struck out six and allowed only one runner past first base. Barber yielded three hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

The White Sox blanked Washington behind Tommy John's three-hit pitching and a three-run homer by Ron Hansen. John fanned nine Senators in breezing to his fifth victory in eight decisions.

Hansen's homer capped a four-run rally in the sixth after Ken Berry extended his hitting streak to 17 games with a run-scoring single.

Tom Tresh slapped two singles and a double, driving in two runs to help the Yankees top Boston and snap a four-game losing streak. Steve Whitaker also had three hits for New York while Fred Talbot and reliever Dooley Womack checked the Red Sox.

Don Mincher drove in three runs with a double and single, Jimmie Hall hit a two-run homer and pinch hitter Bubba Morton stroked a two-run single in California's twilight victory over the Indians.

The Angels won the nightcap behind rookie Rick Clark, who ended a personal six-game losing string with relief help from Bill Kelso. Four Cleveland errors contributed to the Angels' seventh victory in their last eight starts.

PITCHING — Phil Niekro, Braves, blanked Philadelphia on two hits in his first start after 24 relief stints as Atlanta nipped the Phillies 1-0.

BATTING — Willie Mays, Giants, hit his 550th homer—a 10th-inning grand slam that lifted the Giants past Houston, 6-2.

Frazier Is Favored Over Chuvale

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Joe Frazier was made an early line 8-5 favorite over George Chuvale today for their significant 12-round heavy-weight fight at Madison Square Garden July 19.

The matchup of the heavy-weight contenders figures to be a war as long as it lasts. It pits a young puncher in the 23-year-old Frazier against an iron-jawed, body banger in the 29-year-old Canadian champion from Toronto.

"This fight is going to be so good, I'd like to sit back and watch it myself," said Chuvale at a press luncheon when the fight was announced Tuesday.

Frazier, the 1964 Olympic champion from Philadelphia, has a 16-0 record as a pro, including 14 knockouts. Chuvale, never stopped or floored, has a 46-13-2 record, including 39 knockouts.

Golfers Are Threatening to Revolt

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros added their names today to the protesting petition and a player tournament committee said all name golfers were ready to revolt unless their demands were met by the Professional Golfers Association.

"We now have every known player on the petition except Bill Casper and Doug Sanders," said Doug Ford. "Both of them have told us privately that they are in sympathy with our stand. We are now ready for a showdown."

Ford, a member of the four-man players tournament committee, said Palmer, the game's leading all-time money-winner, and Boros, two-time National Open champion, had affixed their names to the petition.

"We now have 150 players on the paper demanding a stronger voice in the conduct of the tour," the veteran New York professional, a former PGA champion, said after an unsuccessful conference with PGA officials.

In a seven-part petition the players are demanding that the PGA Executive Committee be deprived of an arbitrary veto and that the players be given a right to schedule their own tournaments and hire the men who run the show.

If these requests are not granted by June 15, the players' petition said, the touring pros will boycott the PGA National Championship, scheduled at Denver, Colo., July 20-23.

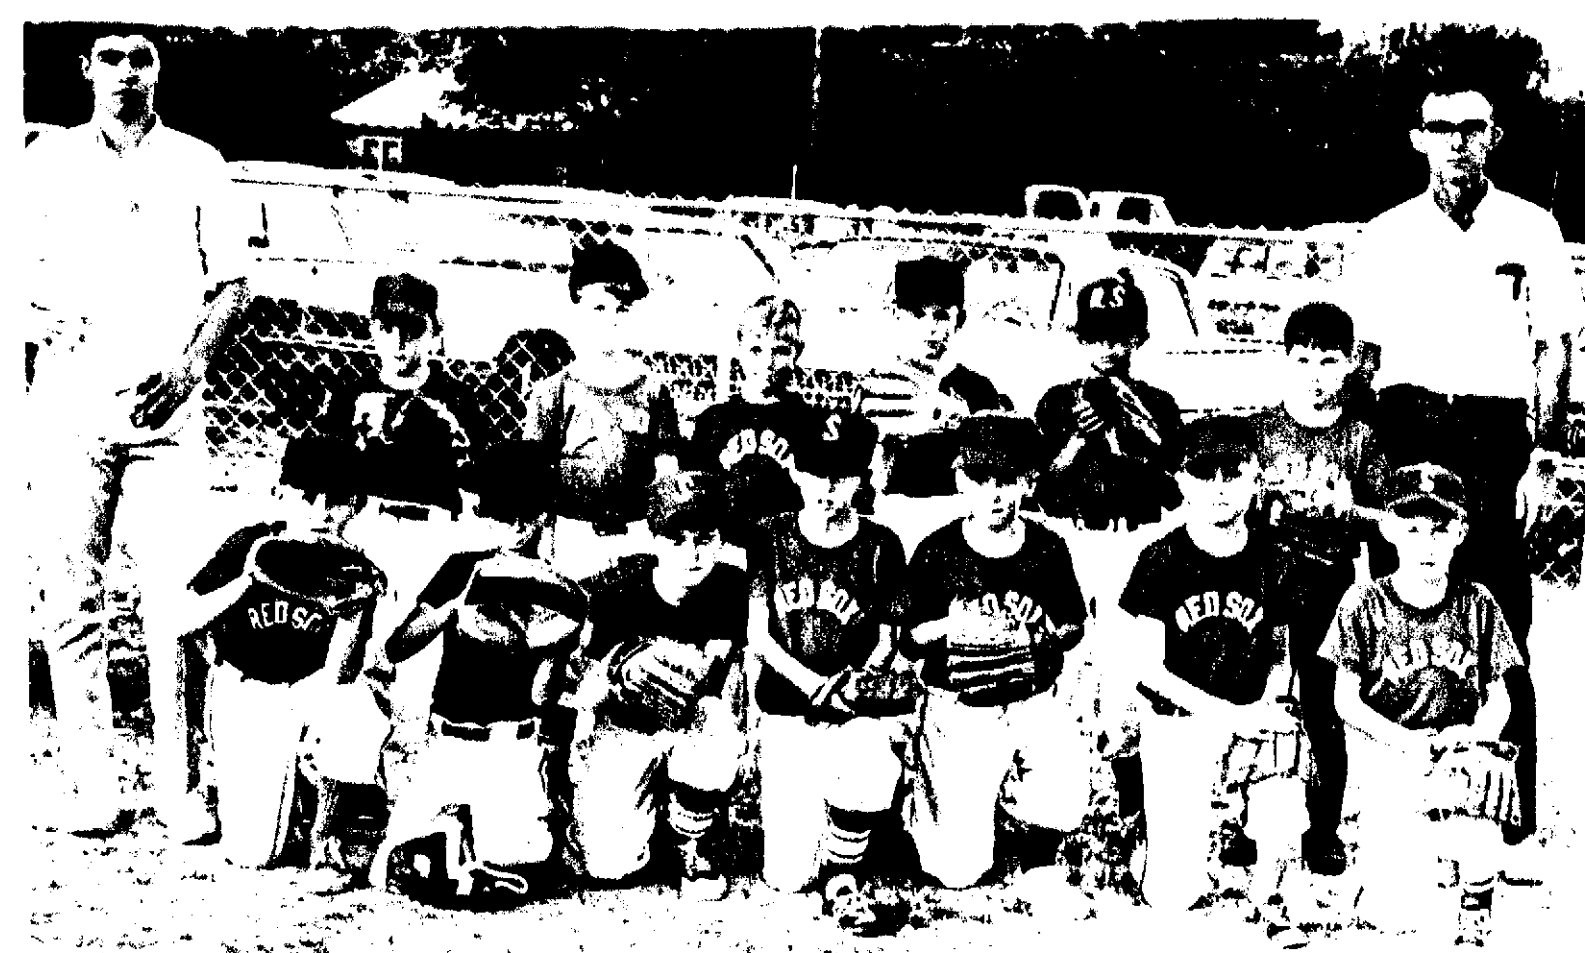

The PGA, which has built and promoted the tour into a $4.5-million enterprise, insists it will not yield.

"We have scheduled a meeting in Cleveland next Tuesday," said Max Elbin, Washington, D.C., president of the PGA and teaching pro of the famed Burning Tree Course where Presidents play.

"We refused to sit down with five or six players. We want to talk with all of them. We feel that many of the players are under a misunderstanding on what is taking place."

"The issue is simple," Elbin continued. "What they want is control. We cannot sit still for that."

Lawn Tennis Has Softened Its Stand

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Lawn Tennis Association, long a foe of open tennis tournaments, has softened its stand—but are the professionals interested?

That is the big question as the USLTA directed its two voting delegates at the International Lawn Tennis Federation meeting in Luxembourg July 12 that they were free to vote as they wished on the touchy subject.

But sources close to the touring pro tennis players said they probably would not be interested in competing against amateurs unless the prizes were worthwhile. Pros and amateurs regularly compete in open golf tournaments, such as the United States Open, which starts Thursday at Baltusrol in New Jersey, or the Masters in Augusta, Ga.

The USLTA held a special meeting here and voted by a substantial majority that Robert J. Kelleher, Beverly Hills, Calif., the president, and Lawrence Baker, New York, were to go "uninstructed" to Luxembourg.

"I have always been characterized as being for open tennis," said Kelleher. "I have always felt it would come some day. It was not a question of whether but of when."

"Mr. Baker would be characterized as not being for open tennis, but this year he has an open mind. We are going to do something for United States tennis."

England has already asked the ILTF for permission to stage one open tournament as an experiment and Australia has asked the ILTF to grant each member nation permission to stage one tournament.

"We want to be able to discuss and consider open tennis proposals at this ILTF meeting and to decide on merit any suggestions or proposals that come up," Kelleher declared.

The action taken at the special meeting here in effect rescinds a strong resolution passed Feb. 2, 1963, in which the association "declares of record its opposition to the principle of open tennis and instructs its officers and its delegates to the ILTF to oppose any changes in the rules of the ILTF which permit the holding of open events."

Many tennis experts believe open tennis tournaments at famous arenas such as Forest Hills and Wimbledon would give the sport a tremendous shot in the arm, both in attendance and worldwide interest.

As in golf, prizes would go only to the professionals with the amateurs receiving trophies in event of victory.

Hank Aaron Joins Very Select Group

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hank Aaron joined the select club of players to reach 2,500 hits but neither he nor the Atlanta Braves discovered the fact until some 24 hours after the slugging outfielder reached the coveted plateau.

The 6-foot, 180-pound Aaron collected a home run and single Monday night against the Philadelphia Phillies to join the 2,500-hit select circle, occupied by only 41 other batters.

"I didn't know how many I had," said Aaron when asked why he didn't mention it Monday night.

"We didn't realize it until we did a recheck," explained a Braves spokesman. He started the season with 2,434, and has 66 so far this season. That's 2,500, even in the new math.

The spokesman explained the club statistician forgot to record an official scoring change that gave Aaron a hit and took away an error charged to Philadelphia's Rich Allen in the second game of an April 30 doubleheader at Atlanta.

Aaron accepted the latest honor of his 13-year career in the same stoic manner he reacts to all of his slugging accomplishments — 10 years a better than .300 hitter, five times a 40 or more home run producer.

He talked about his favorite subject hitting, and almost fanned his listeners with this gem — he's been doing it all wrong.

How wrong can you be to be so right? Aaron explained that he has a hitch in his swing which prompted Manager Billy Hitchcock to suggest he teach the rest of the Braves the same hitch.

"I wouldn't mind teaching hitting," said Aaron, "but I wouldn't teach anybody to do it my way. I've been doing it all wrong."

"I've got a hitch in my swing and I hit off the front foot. Now I wouldn't teach those things. 'The big thing in hitting,' said Aaron, 'is bat control. Stan Musial, for example hit off the front foot. Like me, he was way out in front of the ball. But he kept the bat back until the last split second. You can commit your body, not the bat. That's your leverage.'"

Aaron said most good hitters have a hitch in their swing, naming the Phillies' Rich Allen and Willie Mays as "just a few."

"I'd try to help a young fellow with his own style, not mine," Aaron concluded.

Aaron didn't wait around admiring his 2,500th hit. He went right out Tuesday night and whacked No. 2,501 and 2,502 enroute to the 3,000 plateau. His 2,502nd — a single — knocked in the only run as Atlanta beat the Phillies 1-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Phil Niekro.

He admits it would be nice placing his name alongside Ty Cobb, Musial, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner, Eddie Collins, Napoleon Lajoie, Paul Waner and Cap Anson — baseball's only members of the exclusive 3,000-hit group.

Israel Win Could End Yemen Battle

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — One byproduct of Israel's blitz victory over the Egyptians may be an end to the civil war in Yemen—either through a quick and bloody Royalist victory or by a peace agreement.

The destruction of much of Egypt's air force and army raises the question of whether President Gamal Abdel Nasser, with his economy teetering on the edge of ruin, can afford the men, money and material which are the mainstay of the Yemeni Republican regime. The fighting in Yemen, largely forgotten in the crisis with Israel, began in 1962 when rebel army officers threw Imam Mohammed el Badr off his 11-century-old throne and set up a republic in the Red Sea kingdom in the southwest corner of Arabia.

The Imam rallied loyal tribesmen for war and Nasser sent more than 70,000 troops to shore up the rebel regime led by bearded, sullen Col. Abdullah al-Sallal.

Alarmed by the presence of the Egyptian Army on its border, Saudi Arabia threw its support behind the Royalists.

Princely commanders of the Royalist forces claim the death toll in Yemen goes into the hundreds of thousands. They say some 30,000 Egyptian soldiers have been killed or wounded in the fighting.

Egypt gives no statistics on the war, and there is no way of checking the Royalist figures, but signs of massive death and destruction abound in Yemen.

Egyptian air raids have shattered hillside villages. Hundreds of villagers have died from Egyptian poison gas, the use of which was confirmed this month by the International Red Cross.

The Imam's tribesmen have slaughtered entire Egyptian units in isolated outposts and strewn parts of the country with wrecked tanks and trucks. In the early days of the war, Royalist guerrillas defeated tanks by stuffing their turbans up the exhaust pipes to stall the engines and then beheading the crews as they emerged.

Nasser and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia agreed to end the war with the Jeddah Pact of August, 1965, which called for a halt in Saudi aid to the Royalists and the withdrawal of Egyptian forces. Nasser charged Faisal with violating the agreement and refused to pull out his army. The war went on.

Later Nasser made clear that Egyptian forces would stay in Yemen until neighboring South Arabia gets independence from Britain in 1968, raising fears of an Egyptian takeover there.

The Egyptian strength in Yemen is now said to be approximately 40,000 men and the fighting has become sporadic except for continued bombing by Nasser's jets.

Dodd Irked by Charge He Bilked U.S.

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, opening his defense against proposed censure by his colleagues, his hardest at the charge he billed the government on travel expenses. But he says if he is judged a thief, he should be expelled from the Senate.

The white-haired Connecticut Democrat acknowledges that he used some campaign and testimonial funds for personal expenses—although not to the extent reported by the Senate ethics committee in recommending his censure.

In denying during Tuesday's opening of debate on the resolution that he deliberately billed the Senate for travel expenses collected from private groups, Dodd said, "I am telling you the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help me God."

The ethics committee, after a 14-month investigation, found Dodd billed both the Senate and private organizations for travel expenses on seven trips and also used political funds for his personal benefit.

Dodd blamed the double-billing on bookkeeping errors and disclosed for the first time that he had sent a check for $1,763.96 to the Senate disbursing office "in full payment for the seven trips that were erroneously billed to the government."

Dodd's speech was released during debate Tuesday, but its delivery was delayed until today's Senate session after Sen. Russell B. Long—his lone announced defender—complained only 70 of the Senate's 100 members were present to hear it.

"We are sitting here as a jury," said Long, D-La., adding that only those senators who heard all the debate should vote on the censure resolution.

In his statement released to newsmen, Dodd said the ethics committee's charge that he had requested and accepted double reimbursement for travel could only mean he deliberately defrauded the government.

The 60-year-old Dodd, serving his second Senate term, said if his fellow senators judged him to be a thief, they should expel him from the Senate rather than just censure him.

The bipartisan ethics panel said Dodd should be censured for a course of conduct that "tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute."

Committee Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., bore down most heavily on the panel's finding that Dodd converted at least $116,083 in political funds to his personal benefit.

As a hush settled on the normally noisy Senate floor, and as Dodd's wife and other members of his family listened from the gallery, Stennis said: "There emerges an inescapable conviction that the senator from Connecticut deliberately set out on this course of conduct to convert to his own use funds over which he held only a trustee or fiduciary control."

He was referring to contribu-

Kennedys Are Under Heavy Guard

By EDDY GILMORE
WATERFORD, Ireland (AP) — Twenty-five Irish police-women will work in three shifts to protect Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children around the clock from curious Irishmen and newsmen during her vacation here.

Waterford's County Council has begun putting up 30 no-parking signs around the 241 acres of woods and lawns surrounding Woodston House, the 40-room Regency mansion where the Kennedys will stay. The house overlooks Waterford harbor.

Two new iron gates have been set up at the main entrance.

"The emphasis of the whole vacation is a vacation to be spent quietly," said Mrs. Kennedy's secretary, Nancy Tuckerman, at a news conference in Dublin Tuesday.

Mrs. Kennedy with 9-year-old Caroline and 6-year-old John is to arrive at Shannon Airport on Irish Airlines Thursday morning. They will travel the 85 miles from Shannon to Waterford by car.

From Woodston House on clear nights the Kennedys should be able to see New Ross, the County Wexford town from which President Kennedy's ancestors emigrated to America.

New Ross is 15 miles north, up the River Barrow, from the nedy will come to Ireland for many years," said Brian Brophy. "As an Irishman I'm terribly pleased she's going to holiday here. We have the greatest respect for her and her late husband."

Miss Tuckerman said "although a six-week vacation was originally planned, as of tonight it's four weeks."

During her stay Mrs. Kennedy is expected to accept an invitation to visit Irish President Eamon de Valera.

The two children of Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, will probably join the Kennedys at Woodston House, Miss Tuckerman said. They live in London and their mother is making her stage debut in Chicago this week.

The Kennedys will spend much of their time horseback riding and swimming, the secretary said.

Seventy-one reporters, photographers, radio and television personnel are already at Waterford's Tower Hotel.

A local resident, Mrs. John Harrigan, told a newsman: "She deserves all the peace and quiet in the world and we hope you journalists will let her have it. The Irish people are not going to bother her."

"We'd like to think Mrs. Ken-

Make-Believe World - It's Everywhere

Hollywood isn't the only place where people practice make-believe—you'll find it right in your own community if you look for it sharply.

L. Carter Johnson and I were looking things over at Arkla Village one Sunday afternoon, in the course of which we got aboard and examined the miniature paddle-wheel steamboat in Arkla's miniature lake.

While Carter was admiring the replica of the Southern stern-wheeler days I noted a disturbing fact: While the ship had an authentic paddle wheel I couldn't find any chain or propeller shaft leading back to the wheel, which obviously was without motive power.

Browsing around the pilot house, however, I discovered a "one-armed bandit" which looked very much like the throttle control of an outboard engine. Tracing the control cable I found that it disappeared behind a plywood panel just ahead of the paddle-wheel. The panel was hinged. I lifted it, and, sure enough, there was a 5hp Mercury outboard engine.

"This," I told Carter, "is a make-believe deal. The outboard engine pushes the boat, and the paddle-wheel just trails along."

Carter looked thoughtfully at the romantic little steamboat, sighed, and said:

"I wish you hadn't told me that."

You see—there's make-believe all around us. . . and we love it. And crusty old me—I had to go and spoil Carter's romantic illusions about a 19th Century stern-wheeler come to life right under our nose in this year of our Lord 1967!

2 Lawmakers Give Mills Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reps. David Pryor, D-Ark., and John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., gave bi-partisan support Tuesday to Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., in his bill to establish a government program evaluation commission.

The two Arkansas freshmen congressmen introduced identical measures and released a joint statement endorsing Mills' plan to locate and eliminate non essential government programs and the "waste that goes with them."

"The whole complex of federal bureaus and agencies, each carrying out their own separate program, has brought about inefficient overlap and confusion," they said.

The bi-partisan commission would evaluate existing federal programs and determine their effectiveness. It would also determine which programs should be continued and what priority they should receive in the allocation of funds.

Plan Would Straighten Curve on 67

Dorsey McRae speaking for Foster Realty Co. and Hope Village Shopping Center groups, asked the City Board last night to endorse a plan to straighten out the shape curve on Highway 67 at Third and Shover.

The plan cited a solution that would move a gasoline service station back and enlarge the street. The City gave approval and the plan will be submitted to the Arkansas Highway Department for consideration.

In other action the group voted to buy an excavation machine at a cost of $25,544 for use in various departments. The group agreed to a special meet with the Zoning Commission to discuss a street program.

80 Killed by Guerrillas in Hamlet

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SAIGON (AP) — Communist guerrillas swarmed through a small Mekong Delta hamlet before dawn today, killing or wounding perhaps 80 Vietnamese civilians and militiamen.

The attack was one of several deep in the delta near Can Tho during the night. They occurred near the Cambodian border in an area where the Viet Cong control vast areas of the countryside by night.

Ground action was light outside the delta, the U.S. Command reported. In the air war against North Vietnam, U.S. pilots reported six more MIGs probably destroyed on the ground in the ninth attack on the Kep air base north of Hanoi and widespread destruction to supply lines extending from Hanoi and Haiphong.

The heavy Viet Cong attack in the delta fell on two adjoining hamlets 110 miles southwest of Saigon. While one was being raked by mortar fire, perhaps as a diversion, guerrillas smashed into the other.

A company of about 120 militia defended the second village. They hastily called for artillery support and for the U.S. Dragon Ship planes that nightly circle the delta to provide flares and Gatling gun support for embattled outposts.

A Vietnamese spokesman said 19 civilians were killed, 41 were wounded and the militia suffered heavy casualties, a term that means at least 20 were killed or wounded.

More guerrillas hit a South Vietnamese training center at Tan An, about 25 miles away. Once again Dragon Ships dropped flares and strafed the attackers with Gatling guns, and the attack was beaten off.

The U.S. Command reported the Dragon Ships were called out 24 times during the night, mostly against Viet Cong probes in the delta.

Elsewhere, there was some fighting in the central highlands around Pleiku and more action in the 1st Corps area below the 17th Parallel dividing Vietnam.

The fighting around Pleiku cost one U.S. Air Force Super-sabre jet which dove into the ground, probably after being hit by guerrilla fire. The pilot was killed. It was the 185th combat plane downed by hostile action in South Vietnam.

He Fled From Native Germany Now Plays Part of Nazi Officer

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is an adventure in irony, and this is particularly true in the case of Werner Klemperer, the actor.

Werner, son of Otto Klemperer, the famed symphony conductor, and his family fled their native Germany in 1933 because of the rise of Hitlerism.

Now Werner, who later served three years as a corporal in the American Army, makes a tidy dollar playing a bumbling Nazi officer, Col. Wilhelm Klink, on the CBS television comedy program, "Hogan's Heroes."

Although he has had a lifelong hatred of war and violence, nobody since the late Eric von Stroheim has come along who can play a foreign military villain with quite the heel-clicking authenticity of Klemperer.

Werner finds it hard to define just why he can do this so well.

"Acting is largely a matter of accurate observation," he said. "I suppose I must have seen many German officers when I was a boy in Berlin, but" — he added wryly — "I don't remember ever shaking hands with one."

"I don't find it a particular psychological hurdle, to play Nazi officers, so long as I can be very sure that I can give them the kind of dimension I feel they deserve."

"But I don't want ever to play a good Nazi, and I don't want to act in Germany. No, not now."

Russia Pressing for UN Order Calling on Israel to Pull Back

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union pressed today for an emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly to take action against Israel amid speculation that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin might attend.

The Security Council was scheduled to meet today on a Soviet resolution calling for Israel to withdraw immediately from the territory it seized in its blitz war against Egypt, Jordan and Syria. Council delegates believed the resolution would get only four of the nine votes needed for adoption, clearing the way for action on the Soviet request for the assembly to meet.

Following defeat of the Soviet resolution, Secretary-General U. Thant would poll the 122 U.N. members by telegram, and the necessary majority of 62 countries was expected to agree to the emergency session. Thant then was likely to call the session on 24 hours' notice.

Speculation that the Soviet premier would attend stemmed from a letter from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to Thant Tuesday saying "leading statesmen of the Soviet Union" would attend.

Soviet and other Communist sources at the United Nations said they did not know to whom Gromyko was referring, and Soviet spokesmen in Moscow refused to comment on the speculation.

Goodrich Gets Tire Contract

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Purchasing Director Sidney Kegeles says the state will save at least $40,000 a year on tires for automobiles and trucks under the contract awarded Tuesday to the B. F. Goodrich Co. of Akron, Ohio.

Kegeles also said the contract, estimated to be worth about $300,000, is better than previous contracts because the firm guarantees passenger car tires for 28,000 miles use and truck tires from 30,000 to 50,000 miles.

Goodrich agreed to supply the tires for all automobiles and various trucks at an overall cost of .000675 cents a mile.

Under the contract the Ohio firm will buy back both worn car tires and truck tires. Three firms submitted bids on the state contract Monday.

$75,726 Loan to McGehee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development announced Tuesday its approval of a $75,726 loan for McGehee. The funds are to be used for planning the South Annex Urban Renewal project.

The agency also announced it had approved a $33,000 grant to the University of Arkansas. The money is to be used to finance a study of planning activities in small communities outside metropolitan areas.

The United Jewish Appeal is conducting a national campaign in an attempt to raise $250 million for Israel by July 1.

Directed Ruling Denied in Rights Case

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH

Associated Press Writer HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Federal District Judge Oren Harris denied a motion here Tuesday for a directed verdict of not guilty in the case of a former special officer accused of violating the civil rights of a Phillips County Negro on Christmas Eve, 1965.

The routine motion was filed by defense attorneys for Royce William Finley, 38, of West Helena, one of five defendants in a $150,000 damage suit filed by Roy Charles Townsend, 33, of the all-Negro Southland Community near Lexa, about eight miles northwest of this Mississippi River town.

An all-male jury was empaneled Tuesday morning to hear the suit, which charged that Townsend was falsely arrested and pistol-whipped. The jury, which included four Negroes, was expected to reach its verdict today.

Townsend sought $75,000 in actual damages and $75,000 in punitive damages against Finley, Police Chief Roy D. Ross, 43, Patrolmen Harold Nicholls, 26, and Leroy Davis, 38, and the Home Indemnity Co., which wrote the police chief's surety bond.

Eleven defense witnesses testified Tuesday before George Howard Jr. of Pine Bluff, Townsend's attorney, rested his case at 4:15 p.m.

Townsend, who testified that he had been committed to a mental hospital in Milwaukee, Wis., for three months in 1959 and six months in 1961 because of nervous breakdowns, was convicted in Municipal Court here Dec. 29, 1965 on charges of being drunk, disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and assaulting an officer.

A Circuit Court jury that included one Negro upheld the conviction last month and sentenced him to a $175 fine and six months in jail.

Democrats Undecided on Committee

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Democratic Party officials apparently decided Tuesday not to set up a steering committee for the party as was planned by the Democratic State Committee last month.

The Steering Committee would have made policy decisions for the party.

The group which met Tuesday consisted of Leon B. Catlett, state party chairman, and the Democratic state constitutional officers — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell, state Auditor Jimmie "Red" Jones, Treasurer Nancy J. Hall and Land Commissioner Sam Jones.

Catlett said no statement would be issued by the group, but one source said the state officers felt they were being placed on the spot by the state committee's adoption of the steering committee resolution and they didn't like it.

The state constitutional officers and the Democratic members of the Arkansas congressional delegation were to come up with a list of seven to nine persons to serve on the steering committee by Tuesday.

Drive Begun to Aid Jews

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Members of the Jewish community of Little Rock began an emergency fund drive Tuesday night during a meeting at Temple B'Nai Israel.

Nathan Shainberg of Memphis, who spoke on behalf of the United Jewish Appeal, said the local goal should be $250,000. Arnold L. Mayersohn and Max Moses, co-chairmen of the drive, had set a local goal of $150,000.

The United Jewish Appeal is conducting a national campaign in an attempt to raise $250 million for Israel by July 1.

Mariner 5 on Way to Venus

By JIM STROTHMAN

AP Aerospace Writer CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Chasing a bigger Soviet spacecraft with a two-day headstart, America's Mariner 5 rocketed toward Venus early Wednesday to stare with electronic sensors through the planet's veil of clouds and see if living things can exist there.

A fiery Atlas-Agena rocket, licking the early morning darkness with a brilliant tongue of flame, blasted off at 2:01 a.m. EDT, to begin this nation's first planetary probe in more than 2½ years, and the first U.S. venture to Venus since 1962.

"We are going precisely where we expected to go," project officials reported after tracking the spacecraft for several hours. Mariner 5's flight path is well within the capability of an onboard motor to adjust its path later in the flight, they said.

"Spacecraft performance also appears to be very good," said Allen E. Wolfe, Mariner 5 system manager for the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., which oversees the Mariner 5 project.

Wolfe said experiments to study radiation in interplanetary space were turned on and the craft's four power-producing solar panels deployed. Guidance sensors aboard the $35-million Mariner 5 locked onto the sun for orientation as planned.

Ex-Prison Head Posts $1000 Bond

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Jefferson County Sheriff Buck Oliger said Tuesday Jim Bruton, former superintendent of Tucker Prison Farm, has posted $1,000 bond on each of two charges of excessive punishment of inmates last February.

Oliger said Bruton was arrested on the charges about two weeks ago. He said bench warrants were served at Morrilton by Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins.

Bruton resigned last year, a short time before a State Police investigation last September into alleged abuses of prisoners and other misconduct at the prison. Three wardens were fired as a result of the investigation.

The wardens, Ernest L. Fletcher of Jonesboro, Jess Wilson of England and E. J. Mays of McGehee, were arrested and posted bond shortly after warrants were issued. Bruton was reportedly in a Memphis hospital at the time and warrants were not served on him.

El Dorado Man Suffocates

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Murle Escoubas, 82, of El Dorado apparently suffocated Tuesday when a fire of unknown origin destroyed his home.

Police said he was dead on arrival at an El Dorado hospital.

Convicted Slayer Files Court Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James Dean Walker, convicted in 1965 of the slaying of a North Little Rock policeman, filed a petition Tuesday in federal District Court here. The petition contends Walker's constitutional rights were violated at his trial.

The petition for a writ of habeas corpus is similar to one Walker filed recently in Faulkner County Circuit Court.

The Arkansas Supreme Court Monday prohibited Walker from proceeding with the Faulkner County writ. Circuit Judge William J. Kirby signed an order Tuesday committing Walker of Reno, Nev., to Cummins Prison Farm to begin serving his life sentence.

Attorneys for Walker raised 11 allegations in the petition that they said constituted a violation of Walker's rights under the United States Constitution.

Rioting Cincinnati Negroes Cause Fires That Cost $800,000

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two

big fires-causing an estimated $800,000 damage — erupted in Cincinnati Negro neighborhoods early today as 800 National Guardsmen helped police patrol streets following a second night of racial rioting.

Fire destroyed the block-long Modern Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co. building in the Walnut Hills section. Police said they believed it was started by a gasoline bomb. Fifteen employees escaped injury.

A short time earlier fire demolished the Seybold Paper Co. warehouse.

Fire Chief Bert Luganani set damage to the warehouse at $700,000 and damage to the laundry at $100,000.

Firemen said a gasoline bomb had been tossed into the laundry building earlier, but no harm was caused then.

Firemen responded to about 100 fires during the night, and at most of them the firefighters were pelted with stones. Guardsmen kept spectators and others at a distance to give firemen a free hand in fighting the laundry blaze.

Police announced this morning that all bars and taverns and "all other liquor establishments" had been ordered closed in a wide area of the northeast section of the city.

Other than the two fires, police reported a relative quiet morning. The guardsmen — bayonets and machine guns ready — and police continued patrolling the streets.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — National Guardsmen with bayonets and machine guns ready reinforced police today after "huge bands of marauders" had scattered racial violence, fire, looting and vandalism in Cincinnati.

The city's second straight night of violence occurred in predominantly Negro areas as much as six miles apart.

Police said more than 20 persons were arrested, 22 injured — including three policemen and four firemen — and untold damage done Tuesday night.

Through the early morning hours there were scattered reports of fires, fighting and looting, but they dwindled after guardsmen moved in. By 4:30 a.m. the trouble spots were reported quiet.

Earlier police feared the situation would get out of hand. "Huge bands of marauders are attacking anything and everything," Police Chief Jacob Schott said. He said his 800 men were unable to cope with the ENGLAND, Ark. (AP) — State Police said Tuesday night that two inmates who escaped from Tucker Prison Farm Sunday had been captured.

Authorities said Don E. Adonis, 33, and John Hicks, 20, were captured at Clear Lake, a few miles southwest of here Tuesday night. The two inmates escaped from a work detail Sunday.

Officers said Adonis was serving 21 years from St. Francis County for burglary and Hicks was serving three years from Clay County for burglary and grand larceny.

McNeil Negro Teachers Sue to Be Rehired

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Five Columbia County Negro teachers filed a lawsuit Tuesday in federal district court here, asking the Court to order their reinstatement and to prevent school officials from hiring additional teachers while the lawsuit is pending.

The five teachers are from McNeil. They contend in the suit that the McNeil School Board wants to operate a school system "substantially void of Negro faculty members."

The plaintiffs, W. C. Tims, Mrs. Myrtle Hickerson, Mrs. Eva Mae Moss, Jerry R. Todd and Oscar L. Milus, asked the court to order the board to operate a "unitary school system based upon sound educational and economic considerations."

The suit said there were only 485 students in the school district last year, 175 whites and 310 Negroes. The Southside School is predominantly Negro while the McNeil School is predominantly white.

The teachers contend they were dismissed May 22 in connection with a proposed faculty desegregation plan that would take effect next fall.

Tough, Detached and Charming

By DAVE BURGIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Margaret Heckler began by smiling. It was a big smile, warm and lovely.

Then she said softly, "Hello. How are you? It's nice to meet you."

Shrewd of her, lulling one into a false sense of security! It figured, like the bright smile at the beginning.

Peg Heckler is supposed to be "tough and detached, shrewd and pushy," as one of her Republican colleagues in the House of Representatives put it.

She is, too. To confront her with this reputation doesn't bother her at all. She quickly admits to being "tough and detached, shrewd and pushy." Takes it as a compliment, in fact.

"Yes," she nodded pensively. "I think that's accurate for the most part."

A freshman in the House from Massachusetts' 10th District, Rep. Heckler, 35, a lawyer, was an instant puzzle to many on Capitol Hill.

First it was a sort of what's-a-nice-girl-like-you-doing-in-a-place-like-this? routine. She is petite and pretty, the mother

"I'm asked that question a lot..."

ing the veteran incumbent, Joe Martin in the Republican primary. Martin, former House Speaker who had been in Congress since 1924, was considered safe for another term.

"I'm asked that question a lot down here," Peg Heckler said. "You know, 'How'd you ever beat old Joe?' But it's usually a rhetorical question. People usually answer it themselves by saying something like, 'Gee, you must really be shrewd!'"

Martin's undoing was a combination of his age (83) and, indeed, Peg Heckler's shrewdness, yet she says she never made Martin's age "a point of issue" in the primary campaign.

"I suppose," she said, "I was shrewd enough not to. There is no question Joe had always represented our district every inch and then some, but his age had become an issue—Democrats had planned to make it one—and everybody knew it."

"I have been interested in

"... you have to be tough—tough mentally."

politics ever since college. The first thing I learned about it is that you have to be tough—tough mentally, not in the sense you knock people around.

"I'm not going to sound off about men. Basically, politics is for men, but still there has to be room for at least a few women. The men I come in contact with in this job may be a little naive as far as my being tough is concerned. They expect me to be something other than all business and that's their fault, not mine."

"And you've got to be somewhat detached to take a good look at both sides of tricky issues. If I'm shrewd, well, Congress is no place for people who can't think and maneuver. As for being pushy, the people of my district elected me not to come down here to bow and scrape."

Peg Heckler prefers not to get embroiled in cliché subjects about a woman's role, a mother in Congress "and all that nonsense."

"No, my husband (John, an investment broker in Boston) is not jealous," she said, laughing. "It was pretty much his idea in the first place. And, believe me, he can tell you I still have time for femininity."

"Do I cry? No, not often. When I do get upset, it's not over big problems. I'm tough, remember?" She winked.

Peg Heckler knows well that being known as a hard-working congresswoman won't mean anything without achievement. Meanwhile, being "tough and detached, shrewd and pushy" helps put her on equal terms. "Right now, such a reputation is a plus," she said.

"I really admire her," said another Republican colleague. "She's a heckuva gal and she's going to make her presence felt here. She's the kind of a woman most men dream of for a wife."

Only most men won't admit it.

By JIM CROSSLEY

They couldn't be more misled.

A good many people, when they think of fishing as a leisure activity, picture a portly figure on a bank, with hat over eyes and a long bamboo pole extending lazily over the water.

That is one kind of fishing. But old-fashioned. Today's fishing is ACTION. In fact, action to many of the newer recruits is even more of an objective than catching fish.

Importing the spinning reel from Europe made the difference. Each person who casts with one, or with the closed-faced spin-cast reel which also developed, is an instant expert.

Girls are just as good at it as fellows. With a springy rod you can throw a heavy lure to yonder and farther. It's as fascinating as pitching apples off the end of a willow cane. Beautiful—the way the lure sails. It lands with a most satisfying plop.

Then there's the masterful feeling that comes with reeling in the lure, using all your ingenuity and dexterity to give it lifelike motions.

This is really human against nature. The gambling instinct is mixed in there somewhere, also. It isn't sitting and waiting. It is pursuing.

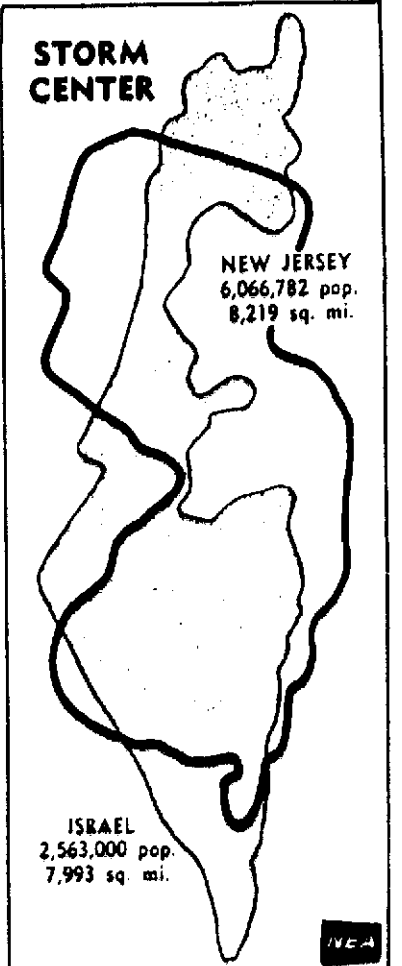

You get involved with accuracy. This kind of fishing isn't much different from archery. Practice does it. If you don't mind calling attention to yourself and nobody will complain about the marks they make in the back yard grass, lay a couple of tires out there and practice-cast from varying distances until you're a sharpshooter. You can "fish" anytime, that way.

Stick with artificial lures. Really, the fish become incidental. When one strikes this silly object of plastic, wood or metal you are trailing in the water, it is so unbelievable that it's like an explosion in your mind the first time it happens.

A strike is the jackpot, a constant possibility always hovering while you're having the fun of expertly tossing the lure just where you want it.

Fishermen, for the most part, stick to leisure clothing and are leery of unusual costumes. That's not part of the sport. But the equipment is—a big part. Gleaming in a tackle box, it holds all the allure of gold and precious gems to the fisherman.

If you want to investigate action fishing as a hobby, start at a sports shop by looking at reels.
